

Here are a few ideas to get you started in the development of a new Expansion:

Names: Here are a few title names and quick story leads.

1. Trandoshan Escape Expansion

You are a new space captain working for a shady 'business man'. After becoming a high ranking officer in his small clan, he sends you to Trandosha (Trandoshan homeworld) for a suicidal Trandoshan hunt. The Trandoshans' are a fearsome species that put fear into the boldest mans mind. Are you tough enough to escape the Trandoshans while the shady man tries to take your life? Will you side with the Trandoshans and try to over though evil? Or follow through and kill without thought?

2. The Compnor Expansion

You where drafted when you where only three months old. The Empire wanted babies with force sensitivity dead or captured. Raised on Coruscant in the Imperial Palace brainwashed with the Empire's ways and new order you are finally ready to do the Emperor's dirty deeds as the top Compnor. After completing several unmerciful tasks you encounter someone that knew you from the past. Will you believe what She has to say and turn from your years of training or do your duty and kill once again. Empires vs Empires with hot intensive motives. Governments splash against each other in this explosive expansion.

3. Red Opts Expansion

As the top of your class and the leader of a special imperial operations force, you lead offensive strikes against the rising Rebellion. Receiving your orders from Vader himself, you carry out some of the most decisive battles in the raging war against the rebellion and all who stand in the way of the mighty Empire. (There is also ways to make this story line turn around by an accident where 'You' the leader, gets captured by the rebels and turns on the Empire.)

As you can see this is only a few. There are many, many other options as well. Any of these names may be interchanged and edited.
